How to find the resources you need with Toolkits

Toolkits are bundles of resources in Thomson Reuters Practical Law™ that focus on specific issues within a topic or practice area. When working on an unfamiliar matter, a Toolkit is a great place to start. Toolkits are also useful to make sure you don't miss anything.

How to find Toolkits on Practical Law UK Home

1. Navigate to the Practical Law UK Home Page.
2. From the UK Home Page, select the relevant Practice Area. E.g. *Employment.
3. Thereafter, select the relevant Topic. E.g. Contracts of Employment.
4. Select "Toolkits" as your resource type.
5. You can now view a list of all Toolkits relevant to the Topic.
6. Select a Toolkit to view the bundle of resources that focus on a specific issue.

Note: *Access to content examples is dependent on your subscription type.

The image consists of three overlapping screenshots of the Thomson Reuters Practical Law UK Home interface, illustrating the steps to find toolkits. Red boxes and numbered arrows (1-5) highlight the navigation path:

- Screenshot 1 (UK Home): The 'Practice areas' menu is highlighted with a red box (2). The search bar contains the text 'tion or enter search terms' (1).
- Screenshot 2 (Employment): The 'Employment' practice area is selected in the left-hand menu (2). The 'Topics' sub-menu is open, and 'Contracts of employment' is highlighted with a red box (3).
- Screenshot 3 (Contracts of Employment): The 'Contracts of Employment' topic page is shown. In the left-hand resource list, 'Toolkits' is highlighted with a red box (4). The main content area shows a list of toolkits (5).
